Free Gallic War Camps

EASY ASSEMBLY GUIDE

STEP 1: MATERIALS

You'll need a thin cardboard box, like the packaging for grocery store cereal or crackers, craft glue, scissors, brown paint, a pinch of scenic flock or static grass, and basing material for your camps. These could be thick cardboard, framer's mat, large MDF or wooden bases. A camp in AGE OF HANNIBAL should be at least the same size as a unit base, ideally larger. Oh right…you also should print this page in color.

STEP 2: MAKING TENTS

Cut the cardboard into thin strips, about ¼" wide. Then cut them into pieces less than 1" long. Fold each piece in half to make a tent. Hold tents near the fold and trim the bottoms to ensure they are even and will sit flat on the base.

STEP 3: ASSEMBLE THE CAMPS

Paint the bases dark brown, then add an optional drybrush layer of lighter brown if you want some added detail. Using dabs of craft glue, stick the tents onto the base. Roman camps should have neatly organized rows. Gallic camps can be irregular to make them visually distinct.

STEP 4: FINISHING TOUCHES

You could paint the tents, but the bare cardboard looks just fine too. Adding some grass flock on the bases provides a nice pop of color. You could stick on a couple extra, loose miniatures if you have any to spare. The paper strips on this page can be used to make fortified Roman camps. Cut them out, fold in half, and glue the wooden wall together. Then, fold and glue the walls around the outer perimeter of your Roman camps. Trim the walls to fit your base. The walls provided here are long and will surround a square base 60mm or less in size.
